&me Sponsors the Fourth Edition of Sustainable & Social Investing Conference

The one-day conference for retail investors and businesses seeking to solve global challenges is set to take place on 21 October 2023 in London

- Organisers of the London Investor Show, Investor Conferences UK, prepare to stage the fourth edition of this one-day conference in London, sponsored by &me, a new digital investment service powered by M&G Wealth.
- Keynote speakers include Shanti Kelemen (Chief Investment Officer at M&G Wealth/&me) and Ben Constable-Maxwell (Head of Impact Investing, M&G Investments)
- Topics covered include “Where are we now? The latest ESG trends and fastest-growing sectors”; “Money is a force for good”, with Robert Gardner (Rebalance Earth); and “Solving the Climate Crisis: an investor’s perspective”

The Sustainable & Social Investing Conference is the first of its kind – a one-day conference and event aimed specifically at private investors, to help them understand how they can use their wealth for good impact, as well as financial return.

Sponsored by &me, a new digital investment service powered by M&G Wealth, this unique conference provides delegates with a full programme of panel sessions, workshops and seminars, discussing the various aspects of sustainable and social investing. As well as drawing on the existing database of previous delegates to the London Investor Show (by the same organisers), over 2,000 active and engaged investors from across the UK are expected to attend the conference over the single day.

Lisa Campbell, managing director of organisers Investor Conferences, said, “After many years of running the London Investor Show, one thing that delegates were asking for time and again, was more information on how to invest sustainably. We hope that investors find Sustain.Social a useful day, delivering education, knowledge and guidance in this area. This is a chance to meet new contacts and share ideas. I would like to thank sponsors, &me, for their valuable support in bringing this conference to investors.”

The event has an impressive line-up of speakers on the day – dedicated to sharing their knowledge and experience with investors who want to learn more about sustainable and social investing.

And from Headline sponsors &me, powered by M&G Wealth, Shanti Keleman, the Chief Investment Officer, said: “We’re delighted to be sponsoring the Sustainable & Social Investing conference. At &me, we believe that purpose and profitability can go hand in hand, and that investors can make a real impact without compromising on their returns. We’re looking forward to connecting with investors at the Sustain Social conference and showcasing the opportunities and possibilities with socially responsible investing.”
